Torquil MacNEILL = Margaret McMATH.

Of Coalhill, near Campbelltown
 b. m. Jul 1758

Andrew McNeill and Margaret McNeill (MacNeill) were married in Campbelltown in the County of Argyll, Scotland. This is the heartland of the Kintyre McNeills (as distinct from the Barra MacNeills) and had long been a source region for the thousands of settlers in the new colonies of the Americas and in Australia. Neil and Mary and their two sons were brought out by the energetic clergyman, the Reverend John Dunmore Long. They sailed from Greenock on the 'Minerva' and arrived in Sydney 23 Jan 1838. Mary & 17 others died of typhus fever during the voyage and their son James died soon after arrival. Within a year Neil had remarried, he and Christina and son Andrew moved to the Hunter Valley region where Andrew and his wife raised a large family.
